February
Upcoming Scholarships

For more information on these, and other scholarships, visit http://opsf.byu.edu

Truman Scholarship Information Meeting
Current freshmen and sophomores interested in pursuing public service careers are invited to come learn how to win $30,000 for graduate and professional school.
Wednesday, March 7, 3:00-4:00 p.m., 3380 WSC

Rhodes, Marshall, Gates-Cambridge, Mitchell, and Fulbright Information Meeting
Come learn how to become competitive and apply for scholarships that fund graduate study in the United Kingdom and elsewhere.
Thursday, March 22, 12:00-1:00 p.m., 3380 WSC

Morris K. Udall and Stewart L. Udall Scholarship
The Udall scholarship awards $5,000 to sophomores and juniors who are either studying in fields related to the environment, or are Native American or Alaskan natives interested in public policy affecting Native American communities. BYU Deadline: February 7, 2012

Jack Kent Cooke Graduate Arts Award
The Jack Kent Cook Foundation provides scholarships worth up to $50,000 per year to help students earn graduate degrees in the performing or visual arts, or creative writing. Deadline: February 9, 2012

Daughters of the American Revolution
The National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution offers several scholarships of $500 to students of different disciplines.
Deadline: February 15, 2012

Benjamin A. Gilman Study Abroad Scholarship
The Gilman Scholarship offers up to $5,000 for study abroad. Eligible applicants must be currently receiving a Federal Pell Grant. Deadline: March 1, 2012

James Madison Fellowship
The Madison Fellowship is for students wishing to teach American government/history at a secondary level. Recipients receive up to $24,000 for graduate study. Deadline: March 1, 2012

Phi Kappa Phi Study Abroad Grant
Phi Kappa Phi awards 50 grants of $1,000 to undergraduates who plan to study abroad. Phi Kappa Phi membership is not required. Deadline: April 1, 2012

Office of Prestigious Scholarships & Fellowships prestigious_scholarships@byu.edu • 801-422-6137